A. E. LOWE BECOMES NORTH STAR SUP'T

VACANT BY DEATH OF
JOHN W. CHANDLER

A. E. Lowe, foreman of the North Star, has been promoted to the position of superintendent to fill the vacancy created by the death of John W. Chandler. The mine will continue to run as at present until the first of the month when Mr. Lowe will decide what changes to make. It is probable that the place of foreman will be dispensed with and the working force put in charge of a shift boss.

Mr. Lowe is one of the best known mining engineers in the Tonopah district having served in an executive capacity with the Tonopah Mining company before receiving the appointment on the North Star in October, 1913. Before that Mr. Lowe was general manager of the Liberty mine. He came to Nevada from Colorado where he had experience in the San Juan country and also served as chief clerk of the mineral division of the Interior Department in the Surveyor General's office in Denver. From that position he went to the Leydon Coal company situated eight miles west of Denver in the capacity of engineer in charge and was largely instrumental in developing that property from the smallest mine in the state to one of the greatest lignite producers.

When the attorneys came into court there was a motion for a new trial which was granted and the case reset for next Wednesday morning.

MINE OPERATORS VISIT THE RESCUE

IF IT WERE THE MIDWAY THE STOCK WOULD SELL FOR
$2 A SHARE

Cal Brounger and Zeb, Kendall carried away with them for display in San Francisco some choice samples of ore taken from the Rescue Eula mine which they visited in company with Clyde Heller and Frederick A. Bradshaw of the Belmont. Both gentlemen were enthusiastic over the sights witnessed in the mine which they said was not equalled by anything in the camp.

"If we had that showing in the Midway the stock would be selling for two dollars a share," is the way Mr. Brounger expressed himself. Zeb Kendall was equally generous in his praise of the property, the stock of which he said should be selling for at least a dollar a share strictly on the merits of the showing so far as the mine has been developed. Zeb was telling of how the mine appeared from the minute he entered the ground where the crosscut tapped the big ledge but that is an old story to most Tonopah readers but when he came to the new work in the mine Zeb declared the sight was enough to make a miser's soul envy the owners.

"The winze is down 25 feet," went on the speaker, "with three feet of a rich ore carrying one foot of the richest sulphides I ever saw on the hanging wall."

SAM PLATT SAYS COUNTRY IS WEARY OF WAITING FOR ACTION BY WILSON

Samuel Platt, candidate for nomination by the Republican party for election as United States senator, motor over from Goldfield last evening and returned to attend to law business before coming to Tonopah tomorrow for a more extended visit. He will accompany the Elks to Elv.

Mr. Platt, who made such a strong run against Senator Newlands at the last senatorial election, has already begun his new campaign in dead earnest. He will leave shortly for the east to attend the Republican national convention. He says the Nevada delegation is ununited and that the convention will be an open one, with the sole aim of choosing the strongest and best man in the party as its presidential candidate. He recently returned from an extended eastern trip and thus summarizes his conclusions as based upon his observations there and his conversation with people who are closely studying the situation:

"It is the consensus of opinion in the east that Wilson will be defeated. This will be because of his lack of decision. He seems unwilling to take any decided stand. Congress is unable to determine his convictions and plans. The Republicans at Washington have done everything they can in the way of setting aside their policies in order to sustain the president should he take a stand to uphold Americanism.

"Congressman Roberts is making good in Washington. He has a very wide acquaintance and is well thought of. He is always on the job. Mr. Roberts will be a candidate for reelection.

"The vacillating policy of the administration on the question of preparedness seems to be meeting with

GEORGE WINGFIELD BUYS CONTROL IN FALLON BANK

For several days past rumors have been current that a change in the control of the Churchill County Bank was pending whereby George Wingfield would acquire a majority of the stock in the institution, says the Fallon Standard.

Yesterday it was announced that negotiations to this end had reached a stage where the deal was practically closed and all that remains to be accomplished is the final adjustment of details that are awaiting the return of Vice President Thos. Dolf from California for consummation.

SUPPLY OF PICKS SOLD OUT

DENVER, Colo., May 19.—So many persons have begun prospecting for tungsten as a result of the excitement over the black metal that the supply of prospector's picks in Denver and Boulder has been practically cleaned out. Several hardware dealers report that they have tried in vain to find enough of the small picks in Denver with which to supply the demand. Boulder dealers have been sold out for several weeks.

W. G. Harbold who was brought back from Reno on the charge of passing a worthless check for $80 on Nick Ahleman was arraigned before Justice Dunseath this morning and held in bonds of $1000 for trial.

rebuke all over the country. The Republicans in both houses are working zealously for preparedness purely for protection purposes. If any remedial legislation is accomplished along that line, it will be through the patriotic efforts of the Republicans on the floor of congress, in spite of the administration.

"The Republicans of the senate have succeeded in forcing the Democratic majority in the lower house in conference to agree to more nearly adequate legislation to that end. If we become adequately prepared the country can thank the Republican members who are valiantly fighting for the immediate needs of the nation.

"The people are looking to Republican leadership to preserve American traditions and to uphold our power and dignity before the nations of the world. It is also being rapidly recognized that the Republican tariff doctrine must immediately be put into execution to preserve the rights of labor and American industry at the close of the war. The present prosperity in the east is recognized as being only temporary and the great concern of the country is to provide against an industrial foreign invasion in competition with American markets when the great war ends.

"The Democrats themselves have recognized this in their recommendation of a tariff commission originally conceived by the Republicans. The people at the next election will look to constructive Republican statesmanship to meet the necessities of the hour. There is not a shadow of doubt in my mind that a Republican president will be elected and that he will be supported by a Republican senate and a Republican house of representatives."

WINZE SHOWS WELL

The winze from the 950 level of the Rescue-Eula is now down 25 feet. The winze has been in one from the start which has been constantly increasing in grade. The bottom today is well sprinkled with rich sulphides. There are now six faces of shipping ore in the property, the winze, east drift, and four raises from one of which a drift is being run to the south drift of the Belmont in Occidental ground for an air connection.
